Mochi

Mochi ice cream is a modern variation of traditional Japanese mochi, which consists of small balls of ice cream wrapped in a layer of sweet, chewy mochi dough. The mochi dough is made from glutinous rice flour, sugar, and water, which is kneaded into a smooth, pliable dough and then wrapped around a small ball of ice cream.

Mochi ice cream comes in a variety of flavors, such as green tea, strawberry, chocolate, and mango. It is often served as a dessert or snack, and can be found in many Asian grocery stores and Japanese restaurants around the world. The combination of the cold ice cream and the soft, chewy mochi dough makes for a unique and satisfying texture and taste experience.

Gallons and Pints

Ice cream is a frozen dessert that is made from a mixture of milk, cream, sugar, and flavorings. The mixture is churned in an ice cream machine to incorporate air and create a smooth and creamy texture. Ice cream can be made in many different flavors, such as vanilla, chocolate, strawberry, and mint chocolate chip, and can also include a variety of mix-ins, such as fruit, nuts, and candy.
